

WAS CAPTURED DURING NIGHT

Man Wanted For Alleged Crime Against Infant Of Four Years, In County Jail.

A WILD RIDE IN THE AUTOMOBILE

Officer Brown And Sheriff Cochrane Bring Prisoner Back From Belvidere, Illinois, This Noon--
Alleged Crime Revolting.

Locked in the county jail, charged with one of the foulest and most revolting crimes in the criminal calendar, that of attempted criminal assault upon a four-year-old baby girl, is J. C. Trumpprowe.

The discovery of his alleged crime late last evening, the pursuit of the suspected criminal by telephone messages, his final location at Belvidere, and the hair-raising trip taken by Sheriff Cochrane and Officer John Brown at three o'clock this morning from this city to Belvidere in an automobile, and their arrest and bringing back of the prisoner, who is as yet ignorant of the charge preferred against him, is something new in local police annals.

Trumpprowe, in Janesville for the past six weeks working for the contractor filling the washout on Washington street and later for Hughes in Forest Park. He boarded at the Highland House. His presence in the city had not been unnoticed by the police, owing to the fact that he has been in trouble since being here and was once arrested. He had but one arm, the other being cut off at the wrist. That he was wanted for a serious offense against a baby girl was not known until last night and the quick work of Officer Brown and Sheriff Cochrane in landing their man without the trouble of requisition papers is worthy of recognition.

It was late last evening that Officer Brown was notified that he was wanted at the McCarthy home on Wisconsin street and on arriving there found Dr. Q. O. Sutherland making an examination of a four-year-old Frances McCarthy. The little tot was suffering from a swelling of the lower parts and told a story that blanched the faces of her parents and started a pursuit that took the officers post-haste at three o'clock in Pierson's automobile for Belvidere to arrest the human beast who must be guilty of such an alleged cruelty.

On Sunday last Trumpprowe appeared at the McCarthy home and after giving little Frances ten cents is alleged to have enticed her into a hollow, where an old shed stands, where the assault is alleged to have taken place. It was not until last night that the child's condition was discovered and Dr. Sutherland was immediately called. His preliminary examination showed a frightful wrong had been committed and the police were summoned and the little tot repeated her story. A loathsome disease had set in and a further examination this morning shows this is the most serious portion of the assault.

Telephones Busy
Officer Brown learned that Trumpprowe had left town en route for DeKalb, Illinois. He telephoned this city, Freeport, Belvidere and Rockford and located his man at Belvidere, where he was sleeping in a livery stable ready for continuing his trip to DeKalb this morning. Trouble was experienced in making the police officers at that city understand it was imperative to arrest the man at once and fearing that a delay in their arrival there with a warrant might lose them their prisoner, District Attorney John Fisher was called up at one o'clock and a warrant drawn up and given to the sheriff for service.

Off by Automobile
Roy Pierson was then communicated with and soon had his auto ready for the thirty-five-mile ride to the Illinois city. The night was dark, the lamps did not work well and the party had to feel their way along. They reached Belvidere shortly after seven and soon had their prisoner ready for the return trip. He was told that he was wanted for the theft of some horse blankets at Russell's barn and while he protested his innocence, he came back with the party, which arrived here shortly after twelve o'clock. He was then locked up in the county jail.

Is a Foreigner
Trumpprowe is a foreigner, being from one of the German states. He is supposed to have come to Janesville from Tennessee, although he has told a little about himself or his home. Had he fought requisition from Illinois he might have made serious trouble for the officers and he probably would have done so had he realized what he was really charged with.

STRONG ORGANIZATIONS MAY HAVE FEDERATION

Fight On President Gompers For Political Program Will Be Watched By Two Million Workers.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 10.—More than two million working men and women throughout the United States and Canada will watch with interest the opening of the twenty-sixth annual convention of the American Federation of Labor in this city next Monday, and the work done here during the week will directly affect hundreds of thousands of persons. Delegates arrived today from all parts of the country. Some came from as far west as California, Washington and Oregon, and some from Maine and Massachusetts, while the south promises to be more largely represented than at any of the previous conventions of the federation. All classes of labor, from the most skilled to the commonest and most poorly paid, will be represented.

The convention this year promises to be of far more than ordinary interest and importance. The federation has come to a turning point in its career. Heretofore, as an organization, it has taken no part in politics. As a matter of fact, the constitutions and by-laws of many of the big national and international labor bodies that make up the federation, have forbidden participation in politics. During the past year a radical step was taken by President Gompers almost wholly upon his own responsibility with the sanction of the executive council of the federation and the evident approval of many prominent labor leaders throughout the United States. Others, however, have not hesitated to severely condemn the federation for the course it has taken. Those opposed to the political program include it is said, some of the strongest and most influential organizations affiliated with the federation. Their delegates are prepared to combat the Gompers idea in the convention next week and it is probable a lively contest will ensue.

SENSATIONAL SUIT BEGUN IN THE CLEVELAND COURT

Charges Made Against Large Firm Of Everett-Moore Syndicate That They Were Not On The Square.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Cleveland, O., Nov. 10.—Col. F. S. Dickson today filed a suit for one hundred thousand dollars against the Everett-Moore Syndicate for the service he rendered, in extricating the syndicate from its financial troubles during the years of 1902-3. The petition sets forth the nature of the services rendered. It alleges, among other things, the situation was made more difficult by the members of the syndicate transferring their assets to their wives and then attempting to conceal the facts by burning their books. The Everett-Moore syndicate owned and operated an extensive system of urban and interurban railroads and controlled a number of independent telephone companies in Ohio and other states.

MANY HUNTERS KILLED IN THE WOODS THIS YEAR

Deer Season Will Increase The Total Number Very Considerably, It Is Feared.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 10.—Sixteen dead and twenty-one injured is the record of casualties since the general hunting season opened in Wisconsin and Upper Michigan September 1. All of these accidents are the result, directly or indirectly of the hunting season.

At midnight tonight the deer season opens. Deer are plentiful and hunters more numerous than ever before. It is feared that the number of dead and injured during this season will be increased, as compared to 1905.

Already a movement is afoot which may result in an extension of the deer hunting season. One of the main arguments against a law to that effect will be the casualty list.

During 1905, beginning with September 1, and closing with the end of the deer season, Nov. 30, there were twenty-six persons killed and fifty-one injured in Wisconsin and Upper Michigan.

The dead and injured thus far this season are as follows:
Deaths in Wisconsin.

Buss, Elizabeth, of Chippewa Falls, shot and killed by the discharge of a gun which small brother was flourishing.

Briggs—seven months old child of Leander Briggs of Benton, killed by discharge of gun which the father was cleaning.

Calder, Charles, of Milwaukee, died from wounds in head sustained as result of being shot while hunting near Pewaukee.

Lupke, Herman, of Unity, leaning on a gun when it discharged; death followed shortly.

Uddler, Theodore, of Rockland, aged 17 years, killed by accidental discharge.

Travis, Jerome, died from shock of amputation at Balsam Lake; shot himself in the arm.

Taylor, Orlo, of Bloomington, aged 14, died as result of gun shot wounds.

Pierson, Hilbert, of Cumberland, died of wounds sustained by accidental discharge of gun.

Slattery, Edward, of West Allis, died from effects of gun shot in stomach while hunting in Waushara county.

Digle, Frank, of Superior, died of lockjaw as result of gun wounds.

Hanson, Sever, of Rib Lake, mistaken for deer and shot.

Hale, Lee, of Iowa, mistaken for deer and shot.

Deaths in Upper Michigan.
Smoyak, Joseph, of Marquette, killed by charge of shot in the stomach.

Leech, son of W. A. Leech of Sault Ste. Marie, aged 22, shot and killed by own gun while hunting partridges.

Kendricks, John, aged 12, shot and killed by accidental discharge of gun in hands of Henry Quigley.

Injured in Wisconsin.
Elmer Hill, of Apollonia, bitten in hand in contest with bear.

Clarence Roming, aged 12 years, right arm shattered by discharge of gun.

Injured in Michigan.

Before The Footlights.

December 4 is the date set for the appearance here of Myers Grand, of the enormous New York success, "The Squaw Man," which ran with such an enthusiastic reception at Wallack's Theatre in New York for seven continuous months. No more lasting story told in such a thrilling manner has ever been placed upon the stage, and this will be the last opportunity to see it in this section, as the contracted engagements elsewhere will keep it on the road this season. Numbered in the excellent cast are Henry Jewett and J. M. Coville, who with John Harrington and Edith Cartwright go to make up a splendid artistic presentation.

Those of our theatre-going readers who enjoy a first class comedy will be pleased to learn that one of which our exchanges speak in glowing terms is booked to appear at the Myers Grand theatre on Nov. 15. Reference is made to the coming of "The Squaw Man," one of last season's greatest successes. Miss Nellie Callahan, a comedienne who has been seen in a number of the most successful comedies of the past few years will be seen in the title role, "Betty."

It was on September 8, 1887, that De Wolf Hopper, elected for the first time his great baseball poem, "Casey at the Bat." This was at Wallack's theatre in New York City and was on the occasion of the reception tendered the New York and Chicago baseball clubs given by the management of "Castles in the Air" in which Mr. Hopper was appearing with great success. As the recitation "saved" so strongly of the glories of the baseball diamond and as this recitation shown the two rival clubs marked the termination of a particularly exciting series of games in the metropolis. Mr. Hopper's recitation of "Casey" was only meant for an additional compliment to the gladiators.

No one ever dreamed that this little poem would become the terrific hit that it did. The newspapers raved about "Casey" and its great hit and during the remainder of the long run "Casey" became a fixture and no performance was considered complete without its rendition. This state of affairs continued even after Mr. Hopper had deserted "Castles in the Air" for "Wang," which ran for three solid years; that is, "Wang" and "Casey" formed Mr. Hopper's starring vehicle for that length of time and even now, during the fourth revival of "Wang," the audience simply demands "Casey" as part of the evening's entertainment.

As a most peculiar coincidence; that same date, September 8, 1887, little Marguerite Clark made her first appearance on the stage—that is, if there is any truth in Shakespeare's assertion that "All the World's a stage," for it was then that she first saw the light of day. She came into existence simultaneously with "Casey."—One in the glare of the footlights and a wild and noisy scene of a theatre packed with enthusiastic admirers of art, music, genius and brain and the other in the happiest home in all the world. Thus it was in Mr. Hopper's side partner made their debut. It seems strange how they all happened to meet each other—however, they form an unequalled combination. Now for another coincidence—September 6th was the date set for the first performance of "Wang" this season. After the performance, Mr. Hopper gave a birthday party and reception to Miss Clark to which the entire company, the management of the Shubert theatre in Brooklyn and the full orchestra was invited.

The stage was cleared for dancing and a dainty repast was served. The crowning event of the evening was when Miss Clark donned Mr. Hopper's "Wang" costume and recited "Casey at the Bat." If she would ever do at this public, "Casey" would go down in history. However, "Casey" was nineteen years old Sept. 6th last, and so was Miss Clark, and the past and the celebration will surely be remembered for a long time. Mr. Hopper will be here on Nov. 20.

"Texas," a comedy drama, will have its first production in Janesville at the Myers theatre Monday, Nov. 12. The play has been a success in New York and in the larger cities of this country the past two seasons. In a criticism by Walter Scott of the Associated Press in which he praised "Texas" he says: "We have referred to 'Texas' several times during the past few weeks because it is certainly the best production which has put in an appearance in this town in many a day; and the New Yorkers show their appreciation for 'Texas' by their liberal attendance at each performance. During the past five weeks thousands of New Yorkers have witnessed the play."

..Forty Years Ago.

Janesville Daily Gazette, Saturday, November 10, 1866—Match Game of Baseball.—The High School club of this city has gone to Milwaukee today to play a game with the Whitewater Juniors. They went off to the trial with all the enthusiasm which characterizes all our contestants in this game.

Attempted Burglary.—An effort was made by burglars, on Thursday night, to enter the residence of Mr. Propper on Bluff street. They succeeded in getting a window partially raised, when it is thought they endeavored to use chloroform to stupefy the inmates of the room. They were unable to get the window high enough to force an ingress to the house, and while trying to effect an entrance elsewhere were overheard by other members of the family, and were frightened away.

The stockholders of the new Gymnasium Club met at the rooms of the Young Men's Association on Thursday evening.

which has a charm that not even "Arizona" or "The Virginian" can equal. We have tried in vain to determine what there is about "Texas," which makes everybody want to go to see it a second time. Ex-Governor Ashley of Ohio, once said that there was only one theatrical production that he had ever cared to see more than once, and that was "The Old Homestead." He confessed to having seen this famous production more than twenty times, and he added that he hoped to live to see it a hundred times. In a similar manner there is something about "Texas" which draws one back to see it again in spite of one's self. It is not too stage-setting which played so prominent a part in "The Old Homestead," though Texans who have seen this production at the 14th St. Theatre assert that the scenery is perfect in every detail.

As to the opinion that a critical analysis of the entire production would show that the charm lies chiefly in the lines of the play itself, in "The Virginian" there is only one great line: "I am of the West and must do its work." In "Texas" there are 60 many phrases so exquisite and so telling that it is impossible to particularize. To generalize, however, we will say that in our opinion the exquisite beauty of "Texas" arises from the fact that Mrs. M. E. Hopper, the author of the play, has taken into this field the same high class work which Bret Harte carried into his California tales. High class work plays in more ways than one. The general public may be slow to appreciate work of this character, but in the long run, in the end high class work tells. In fact, it is the only kind of work which is permanent and lasting.

Rheumatic Pains

"I have suffered terribly with rheumatism, I took Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills and they gave me great relief. I have spells of terrible pains in my ribs and in the small of my back, and the Anti-Pain Pills help me right away. I am now well of the rheumatism and think Anti-Pain Pills do me more good than all the other medicines. I first heard of them through the following circumstance that happened at our home two years ago. A friend, Mrs. Brown, of Orion, Mich., came to visit us. She had not been able to dress herself or comb her own hair for months. A friend of ours came in and seeing her suffering offered her some Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. She laughed at the idea of relief from such a source after doctoring for so long, but took one of the tablets with the remark that it would at least do her no harm. She took another that evening, and the next morning she was so relieved that she went to the druggist and got a package and took them home with her. Recently she was here again, and told us that she continued taking the pills, and that one box cured her, and she has not had a symptom of rheumatism since."

S. R. FARMER, 332 Third St., Detroit, Mich. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first package will benefit. If it fails, he will return the money. 25c a box. Never sold in bulk. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

HOW DO

The catalogue-houses get the business? By advertising. John D. Rockefeller recently made the statement that he attributed his success to "getting the confidence of the people." If you wish to get the confidence of the people, advertise and live up to it. Show me a successful advertiser and I will show you a man that has the confidence of the public.

The live issue today is how to get the confidence of the public in the easiest and quickest way.

The Gazette advertising columns are the keys to the problem. Advertise there and live up to everything you say. Results are inevitable.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT

A little girl, eleven years old, entertained Elbert Hubbard, of Roycroft fame, the other day, by talking to him about bees. The conversation suggested bees as a topic, and a story article in the November Phillips is the result.

He says that the short and scientific name for bees is Apis Mellifica, and that the wasp and bumblebee are to the honey bee what the punster is to a humorist.

"Bumblebees only make a little honey, and as it is inconvenient to get it away from them, there is no money in raising bumblebees."

"Wasps make honeycomb, but instead of putting honey in the cells they catch spiders and use the cells for prison cells. The wasp is either an undeveloped bee or a degenerate one."

"Wasps and bees are second cousins, like men and baboons they have a common ancestor. Ages ago, one band of monkeys struck out for the plains in search of adventure, and these evolved into men; the others took to the woods and are monkeys yet."

"Wasps stuck to the woods and are still wasps, but the wasps that followed the clearings became Apis Mellifica, or words to that effect."

"Bees sting but once and die, but wasps can sting eight hours a day."

"Then he goes on to say some interesting things about bees. A queen bee will lay over a million eggs during the summer. The eggs she lays every day are double her own weight."

"It only takes three days for the eggs to hatch. The young are then fed by the nurse bees, which are the bees under sixteen days old. These bees feed the others from glands in their head that secrete milk."

"When the bee is sixteen days old she is of age and goes to work. The average life of the worker is only forty-five days. She just works herself to death."

"There are about fifty thousand bees in a hive, 35,000 workers, 15,000 nurses or housekeepers, 600 drones, and one queen. The queen often lives for five years, but at the first approach of winter the bees have a St. Bartholomew day, and kill every drone."

"Bees have five eyes, three they use for seeing and reading, and two for long distance hustling."

"A hive of 35,000 workers will often bring in twenty pounds of honey in a day. If the flowers are just right, and yet one bee only gathers one grain of honey a day, and may visit three hundred flowers to get it."

This chapter on bees, briefly outlined, is well worth reading, for it contains valuable information and many good suggestions.

The bee kingdom, one of the most humble in all the realm, is an absolute monarchy, where the queen is not only religious supreme, but where she outlives several generations of subjects.

The percentage of tramps or non-producers, is comparatively small, and they pay the death penalty for idleness without the formality of trial.

The children of this wonderful kingdom contribute to its welfare by acting as nurses, and housekeepers through childhood, and when they reach the age of maturity, at sixteen days, take up the active burden and work to the limit of endurance until the end comes.

There is no shirking responsibility, and no demand for shorter hours and more pay. Loyalty to the queen and the kingdom, with a nest egg laid by for a rainy day, are the incentives which prompt to faithful service.

The monarchial form of government, so well represented in the bee kingdom, is duplicated to greater or less extent in the insect and animal world.

Where the wilds of nature have been undisturbed by the march of civilization, the birds and animals establish and maintain tribal relations which recognize authority and command obedience.

Years ago on the plains of South Dakota, when the country was a wilderness, herds of antelope ranged over the prairies at will. Outlined on the brow of a hill, with head erect and eyes alert, would always be noticed the king of the tribe, standing sentry.

nel, while his subjects grazed in the valley below. He was the leader, and protector and much strategy was required to throw him off his guard.

Government of some kind has always been found necessary for both animals and men where they congregate, and so from the date of history down, through the centuries to the present time, people have lived together as tribes and nations, recognizing authority and a governing power.

The days of tyranny and oppression, because of cruel despotism, have gradually yielded to the march of Christian civilization, and with the founding of the republic on American soil was ushered in an era of independence which has developed the best form of government that the world has ever known.

America today is without a rival. Her subjects are free men in the broadest sense of the term, and the only allegiance demanded is loyalty to the land which shelters and protects them.

It is unfortunate for the republic that this fact is not more fully appreciated. We ought to be the most contented and happy people under the sun, for we enjoy the best government and live at a time when fortune smiles on every hand and crowns with success every honest effort.

Any man who enjoys the exalted privilege of American citizenship, and spends his time in pessimistic forebodings and calamity howling, deserves banishment.

There is a shipload of such people today, ready for transportation. What they would do for a living on any other soil might be a perplexing question, for the most of them are of a literary turn.

It is said that the unit of the republic is the individual, and that the most important realm is the government of self.

The statement is true, and the fact is also recognized that self-government is a most difficult proposition.

It is so much easier and pleasanter to govern other people than to govern ourselves, that we take to it like a duck to water.

"If that boy was mine, I would thrash him within an inch of his life. But where is my boy? Oh, he ran away from home because I couldn't govern my temper."

The citadel of every heart is besieged by contending forces: one quiet and appealing; the other boisterous and determined.

There is room for but one occupant, and the choice is ours. The former pleads for self-government and self-control, and the heart that listens and obeys, becomes the monarch of the choicest kingdom in all the realm.

He commands the forces which reach out into the broad arena of human activity and produce results. The kingdom of the bee is a model empire, but it is only a bee kingdom. Happy the man who knows himself and who reigns supreme on the throne which has no rival.

The hospital fund is not growing as rapidly as it might, and unless some more substantial interest is expressed the enterprise may fall through. Everyone admits that it is a good thing, but many are willing to have someone else furnish the money.

A Chicago man, who claims to be a republican, proposes to bolt the party because he inadvertently voted for a negro, last Tuesday. He argues that the color of the candidate should have been marked on the ballot. Prejudice is usually the result of ignorance, and the Chicago nigger seems to be well stocked with both.

Hearst will continue to be a prominent factor in American politics, just so long as a yellow constituency, four million strong, continue to back him with moral and financial support. Hearst, without an audience, would be the end of Hearstism.

The difference between the Davidson and Connor vote indicates the strength of La Folletteism in the state today. It is gratifying to know that, but so small a minority is wedded to an idol. The party, not the man, is again in the ascendancy and loyalty is the prevailing spirit.

PRESS COMMENT.

Give Her a Rest.
Eau Claire Leader: Mrs. Eddy is not dead. She says so herself. Give the aged and infirm woman a rest.

Johnson Family United.
Chicago News: Judging from the way Gov. Johnson of Minnesota ran he must have got the solid Johnson vote.

Way is Clear Before Him.
Chicago Tribune: There is nothing to hinder ex-Candidate Upton Sinclair from betaking himself to the jungle again.

Square and Straight.
Delavan Republican: The stalwarts played square and pulled straight. Can the La Folletteites show as good a record?

Efforts Were Futile Everywhere.
St. Louis Globe-Democrat: There are no indications that the name of the United States will be changed to Mr. Gomper's Cabbage Patch.

A Testimonial.
Topeka Capital: After looking The Umpire chorus over carefully we find that we are better satisfied than ever with the Topeka girls.

He's After Local Color.
Exchange: Look out for some vivid word painting on the subject of the Pauama canal in the annual message, for the president has started for the scene of operations to get local color.

The Angry Man of Evansville.

Evansville Review: The maddest man around these parts is the individual who goes to the closet for his overshoes, and discovers that his wife gave them to the hired man last summer to work up into pump-suckers.

BOYS CARRIED OVER FIFTEEN-FOOT FALLS

Marquette Youths' Boat Capsized and They Were Unable to Battle with Current.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Marquette, Wis., Nov. 10.—Three youths, Albert Marsh, Warren Hale and James Forbes, were swept over Eagle Falls, Poshigue river, in a rowboat which upset as it went over the falls, a drop of fifteen feet. Hale saved himself, Marsh was crushed on to the rocks, and Forbes was carried through the rapids. Both the latter were rescued alive.

JAPAN MAY PLACE BUYER IN RICHMOND

Representatives of Mikado in Virginia City and May Establish Offices.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Richmond, Va., Nov. 10.—The presence here of Dr. T. Abe, Mr. Takeda, B. Uyeda and T. Matsumara, of the Japanese government, has led leading tobacco men to believe that they are looking over Richmond with a view of establishing offices in this city for the tobacco monopoly of the Mikado's kingdom. The governments of Spain, Austria, and the Imperial Tobacco company of Great Britain, all have representatives here who buy tobacco for their home governments. The Japanese tobacco industry is controlled by the government, which at present buys its tobacco through Japanese firms, the firms placing their orders on the markets, thus necessitating a third party to the contract. If they establish an agency here for the monopoly this method will be abandoned and the tobacco will be bought for the monopoly direct.

LARGE CONVENTION OF THE Y. M. C. A.

Two Hundred and Thirty-five Young Men—Many from Ripon, Lawrence and Milwaukee—Dinner.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Beloit, Wis., Nov. 10.—The convention of the Wisconsin Y. M. C. A. in session here now, is the largest ever held by the organization. Two hundred and thirty-five delegates are present, coming largely from the college branches at Ripon, Lawrence, Milwaukee and Wisconsin university. Much routine business was transacted this morning and this afternoon officers were elected as follows:

President—Mrs. F. E. Brown, Milwaukee.
First Vice-President—Mrs. Carter, Waukegan.
Second Vice-President—Mrs. Louise Kellogg, Madison.
Secretary—Mrs. Frank Anderson, Wauwatosa.

The principal address of the meeting will be delivered tomorrow evening by Rev. Fred Starr of Grand Rapids.

CORN CROP LARGER THAN LAST SEASON

Government Estimate Shows 30.2 Bushels as Compared to 28.8 in 1905.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, D. C., Nov. 10.—The preliminary returns to the crop estimating board of the department of agriculture, according to a bulletin issued today, shows the production of corn in 1906 to be 2,881,096,000 bushels or an average of 30.2 bushels to an acre, as compared with the average yield of 28.8 bushels estimated in 1905. The general average as to quality is 32.9 as compared with 30.6 last year. It is estimated that about 10 per cent of the corn crop of 1906 is still in the hands of the farmers.

"These Are Prosperous Times,"

But because of that you need not pay two prices for your dentistry. You paid $10 each for those gold crowns, didn't you?

For your next dental work we would suggest your saving one-half of that amount by selecting Dr. Richards to do your dentistry. He guarantees:

- Equal work.
- Equal quality of gold.
- Equal fit and durability.

He can show you crowns worn by people in this town put on by him 15 years ago.

15 years' service for $5.00 does not look like a foolish investment.

BOTH RAILWAYS HAD DERAILMENTS TODAY

North-Western Hog Switch-Engine Wrecked by Turning of Track—Wreck at Barrington.

Within a distance of a block there were two small railway wrecks in Janesville this morning. One was on the North-Western and the other on the St. Paul. The former was the derailment of a huge hog, a class R locomotive that has been used as a switch-engine of late. The accident occurred shortly after midnight in the vicinity of the freight depot, a railturning over and throwing the locomotive completely off the track before it could be brought to a stop. The engine was badly damaged and the tracks bent and broken and it was not until nine o'clock this morning that the wrecking crew completed their work. The locomotive was manned by Engineer J. L. Walters and Fireman Van Antwerp. The other derailment was on the main line of the St. Paul just north of the Five Points crossing. A car of beet, being pushed by the beet-sugar switch-engine, jumped the tracks at a switch frog, tearing up two rails and cutting the ties. One rail was bent into a C shape. At Barrington on the North-Western there was another wreck last evening and the main line from Chicago was blocked for several hours. There was a rear-end collision and several cars were scattered about the two main tracks. No one was injured.

KNOWLEDGE OF THE WORLD'S BEST ART

As well as literature should constitute the choicest mental furniture of the well-rounded man or woman. J. W. Moran, the eminent art critic who comes here Monday to deliver a course of six afternoon lectures, is well informed on both but he is going to speak particularly of the great paintings and the artists who have created them. Many of those pictures you have seen and all of them you some day hope to see. The lectures are free to all members of the Art League. Others will be welcome upon the payment at the door of a nominal single admission fee of 25 cents or $1 for the course. The lectures begin at three o'clock each day.

Free W. C. T. U. Lecture: Rev. Eugene S. John, national speaker of the W. C. T. U. will deliver a free lecture at the Cargill Memorial church next Wednesday evening. The address will be given in connection with the county W. C. T. U. convention.

HEALTHY EXERCISE IS MOST IMPORTANT

High School Football Team Will Travel on Freight Instead of Playing too Soon after Dinner.

Rather than play immediately after dinner the high school football team will return from Monroe this evening on a freight train. In order to catch the last passenger they would have to leave Monroe at 3:45 o'clock and this would necessitate beginning the game shortly after one o'clock. To play so soon after dinner would defeat the purpose of football and discomfort in traveling is preferred to unhealthful exercise. Those who accompanied the eleven as substitutes are: John Nuzum, Fred Jensen and Lionel Burgess. The rooters are Supt. H. C. Buell, D. D. Manross, Elbridge P. Field, John Connors and W. Wilkinson. Dr. G. B. Theauer is acting as the official for Janesville.

STORY OF PRODIGAL SON IN MODERN LIFE

Rev. R. M. Vaughan Begins Series of "Greatest of Stories Retold," Sunday Evening.

On Sunday evening Rev. R. M. Vaughan begins a series of sermon addresses on the famous story of the prodigal. They will deal with the important social issues of our time as well as with personal religion.

Nov. 11—The Spirit of Unrest. The political cauldron. The use and abuse of discontent. Breaking home ties. The sources of satisfaction.

Nov. 18—The Waste of Wealth. The indictment by socialist and reformers. The worst waste of all. The marvels of reclamation.

Nov. 25—Memories of Home. "O, ye who have little children, give them happy memories." The disillusion of the far-country. Return at last. The home of the lead.

Dec. 2—The Fatherliness of God. The cornerstone truth. A look through the window of a father's heart. A wayward lad's welcome.

Dec. 9—Religion and Merriment. Blessed be fun. Our hunt for amusement. Pleasures that last.

Dec. 16—The Faults of Pious People. "I am holier than thou." Lost at home. The magnanimity of God.

YOUTH'S CHARGED WITH A HOLD-UP

EDDIE RYAN AND CHARLIE BLOW ARRESTED THIS MORNING.

STRANGER-TAPPED FOR $80

Thomas O'Neil of Pierre, S. D., When Apprehended in Intoxicated Condition Claimed He Had Been "Rolled."

About twelve o'clock last evening Thomas O'Neil, a man about thirty-five years of age hailing from Pierre, South Dakota, was picked up on the Corn Exchange in an intoxicated condition. After he had been taken to the station he alleged that two youthful companions for whom he had been buying drinks had provoked a fight with him and after knocking him down had gone through his pockets and relieved him of some $80 in cash. The description he gave of his assailants tallied with that of two boys whom the police had seen in his company earlier in the evening, and a search for them was at once commenced. Eddie Ryan, son of James Ryan, was arrested by Officer Bear at his home at an early hour this morning and Charlie Blow, son of William Blow, the painter, was found by Officer Mason in Nash's barn on Bluff street not long thereafter. When the boys were searched the sum of $30.65 was found on one of them and $38.00 on the other. Neither of the two young prisoners is twenty years of age. Their preliminary hearing had not been held at three o'clock.

Society..

Mrs. Samuel Havens, who lived four and a half miles north of Janesville and in the city itself, for fifty-six years, celebrated her eighty-third birthday anniversary at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. H. Brown, 15 Kedzie avenue, Chicago, on Tuesday, Nov. 6. Nearly all of her children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren were assembled there and Mrs. C. J. Andrews and Mrs. Mary Brochard of Janesville were also numbered among the guests. The guest of honor was the recipient of many congratulations and a number of handsome gifts.

On the 10th of last April Mrs. Havens had the misfortune to fall and break her right hip and since that time, until very recently, she has been confined to her bed. Lately she has been able to sit up in a chair, but is still unable to walk, even with the aid of crutches.

The aged lady came to Janesville long before there was a railroad in the vicinity. The nearest market for farm products was Milwaukee and grain was hauled thither by oxen. There were few houses on the site of the present Janesville and many Indians dwelt in the neighborhood.

Her husband worked on the farm during the summer months and plied his trade as a carpenter in the winter. He erected and assisted in the erection of many of the large buildings in and about the Bower City and helped to rebuild Chicago after the great fire.

Wednesday evening next will be a red letter night for the Modern Woodmen. Drill teams from Freeport, Rockford, Beloit, Burlington, Madison, and other cities are expected to compete for a handsome cup at the skating rink. There will be roller skating from 7 to 9 p. m. and a prize of $5 will be awarded the most graceful couple in the grand march. The competitive drill is to follow and afterward there will be dancing until five o'clock in the morning. The full Imperial band and Knelt & Hatch's orchestra will play.

Mrs. Harry C. Carter is entertaining twenty-four ladies today at a luncheon given in honor of her guest, Mrs. James Hall of Chicago, and Mrs. Butterfield of Moscow, Idaho.

Tuesday evening, Nov. 20, is the date set for the next meeting of the Twilight club. The liquor traffic will be the subject and Rev. Fr. Goebel will preside.

Miss Blanche Sweeney departed yesterday for Buffalo, where she will spend the winter.

Miss Edna Munkow witnessed the Minnesota-Chicago football game in Chicago today.

Miss Ida Fox went to Chicago last evening and will visit there through tomorrow.

Miss Lucile Phibbrook of Racine is the guest of Miss Bessie Burch.

Miss Louise Merrill has returned from a visit in Madison.

NORTH-WESTERN PASSENGER ARRIVING HERE AT 8:20 HIT BUGGY AT SULLIVAN

As the North-Western train which arrived here at 8:20 last evening, in charge of Conductor Waite, was near Sullivan the locomotive struck a buggy with sufficient force to throw it and its occupant to one side of the track. When the train was stopped the crew made an investigation and it was found that the driver was the wife of the hotel proprietor at Sullivan and that she had escaped serious injury. The horse was also unhurt.

Schlatter and Marsden Will Build New Foundry and Double Capacity of Factory.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Beloit, Wis., Nov. 10.—It was announced here today that Schlatter and Marsden will build a new foundry, 60x80, in South Beloit and double the capacity of their manufactory. Since their location here they have prospered and the business of the concern has so increased that larger quarters are a positive necessity. The company expects to purchase a site from the St. Paul Railway company.

Our bank is not only safe but it is kept safe by the careful vigilance of the active management. Most banks have good men as officers or directors but it frequently happens that the very men on whom the public depends for safe management do not hold enough stock to have a vital personal interest in the affairs of the bank. There is no interest like self-interest and one of the greatest safeguards that can be thrown around a bank and that which is commonly overlooked is the personal acquisition of large holdings of the bank's stock by the individual officers and directors. Our officers and directors own two-thirds of the stock in this bank.

"Nonsense, he never recognized me."

"He did. I was a fool to trust such an important matter to a woman."

"Oh, were you? Well, that woman is not such a fool as you think. I have that button back."

"Ah! Good! How did you manage it?"

"They all went to the theater last night, and I just hunted through Miss Remsen's things till I found it, in one of her jewel cases. Here it is." Saying which she handed to the detective the cameo button which he had found in the room where the murder had been committed. "He saw that it was the same, and was somewhat comforted to have it back."

"Has Mr. Mitchell made Miss Remsen any present lately?" he asked.

"Yes, he gave her a magnificent ruby last night. Miss Remsen told me that it is worth a fortune, and it looks it."

"How was it set?"

"It's made into a pin to be worn in the hair."

"Well, I have no further use for you at present. Go home, and be sure you keep a still tongue in your head. You have done enough mischief already."

"Haven't I done any good? I think you are very mean."

"Yes, you have done some good. But you will find that in this world one's friends count against three successes. Remember that."

CHAPTER IX.

THE DIARY OF A DETECTIVE.

It was the morning of the New Year. Mr. Barnes was seated in an armchair by his own fireside at his cozy home on Staten Island. In his hand he held a diary, whose pages he was studying intently. Before peeping over his shoulder to read with him it will be best to give a slight insight into the state of mind which led him to take up the book on this particular day.

After the clever manner in which he had discovered that a young girl existed whose name was Miss Remsen, and who was supposed to be the daughter of Mr. Robert Leroy Mitchell, and after the equally clever trick by which the girl was removed beyond his ken, Mr. Barnes had come to a conclusion. "This was that it was necessary to keep such a strict watch upon Mr. Mitchell that if he had not already committed the crime about which he had warned he should not be able to do so and avoid detection, for Mr. Barnes began to have some feeling in the matter beyond the mere fulfillment of duty. He was being thwarted by this man at every turn and this made him doubly determined not to allow him to win that bet. Therefore he had removed Wilson from the post of watching Mr. Mitchell, and had replaced him by two men who were thoroughly skilful. Wilson and another he set to spy upon the movements of Miss Remsen, for he hoped to find the child through her."

Being the 1st of January, and therefore the last day upon which Mr. Mitchell could commit his crime within the conditions imposed, always supposing that he had not already done so, Mr. Barnes wished once more to go over the reports sent to him by his various spies in order that he might be assured that no mistakes had been made.

He began to read at:

"Dec. 15.—Mitchell left his hotel early and went over to Hoffman House. Remained there two hours, and came out accompanied by Thaurat. They walked up to the White Elephant and spent the morning playing billiards. Dined together at Delmonico's cafe and separated at 2 o'clock. Mitchell then went to his five-story stable and obtained a horse and light wagon. They are his property. Drove slowly along Madison avenue and stopped at Thirtieth street apartment house."

"No sign of Miss Remsen all morning. She has a new maid. Her girl Sarah returned yesterday, but her mistress refused to take her back. Evidently she recognizes that the girl was bribed to go into the country and to recommend Lucette as her cousin. About 2:30 Mitchell drove up in his light wagon. According to orders, I prepared to follow them, that they might not visit the child, eluding us by driving. Obtained a cab and was waiting in it as the two turned into Madison avenue and started up town. Easily kept them in sight without exciting suspicion, but learned nothing as they simply drove up through the park, along St. Nicholas avenue and home again down the Boulevard and Riverside drive. He remained at the Remsens' till 10 o'clock. Then went straight to his hotel. W."

"Dec. 16.—Mitchell spent his morning at his club; afternoon in his hotel, evening at Miss Remsen's."

"Miss Remsen and her sister spent the morning sleeping in the afternoon playing cards; the evening at home."

"Dec. 17.—Mitchell's actions same as yesterday, except that Thaurat called on him at his hotel during the afternoon and was with him an hour. S."

"Miss Remsen, her sister and two other young ladies went to Brooklyn in the afternoon, but simply visited the large stores there. At home in the evening. W."

"Dec. 18.—Mitchell and Thaurat together in the morning. Mitchell and Miss Remsen out walking in afternoon. Mitchell and Thaurat at club in the evening. I bribed doorman and succeeded in getting in, disguised as one of the servants. Mitchell and Thaurat played whist, playing as partners. They lost about $100; went home together. S."

"Miss Remsen indoors all morning. Out on Fifth avenue with Mitchell in the afternoon. During their absence Thaurat called. W."

"Dec. 19.—Mitchell and Thaurat played poker all afternoon in one of the rooms of their club. Both lost. There were four others in the game. One of these won heavily. I have discovered that this is undoubtedly the man who was Thaurat's whist partner on the night when Randolph thought that he detected them cheating. He also answers the description of the man who left the jewels at hotel in New Haven. His name is Adrian Fisher. In the evening Mitchell and Thaurat were in a box at the opera with the Remsen family. S."

"The Miss Remsens gave an afternoon tea. Mr. Randolph called and remained after supper. Went to the opera with the ladies in the evening. W."

"Dec. 20.—Mitchell in his hotel all day. He and Thaurat went driving in the afternoon. I followed them in a light wagon. At the roadside in the park they alighted and had a bottle of wine. Talked together earnestly. Saw Mitchell give Thaurat a roll of money. In the evening they played whist as partners at the club, and again they lost. S."

"No sign of the Miss Remsens till afternoon, when a young lady called and the three went to matinee at Daly's. Evening they spent at home. W."

"Dec. 21.—Mitchell attended worship at St. Patrick's cathedral with the two Miss Remsens. Afternoon remained in his hotel. Evening at the Remsens. S."

"Miss Remsen and her sister at St. Patrick's cathedral in the morning. At home the rest of the day. W."

"According to instructions, I have made inquiries about Adrian Fisher. He is a man of good family, but poor. Belongs to two fashionable clubs. Plays cards for money frequently. Is a good player and seems to earn a living off of his friends. Has no relatives living, except a sister, who is a cripple. He is very fond of her and treats her with great kindness. It is a mystery how he manages to support her as comfortably as he does. They live together in a small flat at—East Fifth street. It was he who introduced Thaurat at the club and had him made a member. He was out of town from Dec. 1 to Dec. 4. Q."

"At this point of his reading Mr. Barnes laid down his book and thought a moment. These questions occurred to him:

"Is this man Fisher the fool of Thaurat? He is poor and a card player. He is well born and has a sister to support in a style suitable to her birth. Has Thaurat induced him to play, that together they may fleece the other members of the club? If looks like it, but why this sudden intimacy with Mitchell, or is that less sudden than we know and have they been long acquainted? Again, is Fisher the man who revealed the satchel from one of these men, and then took it to the hotel in New Haven? He was out of town at the time. Why did he place the satchel in the hotel and then abandon it? After securing the plunder, why did he thus lose it? Was he suddenly overtaken by his conscience, and, becoming aware of the fact that Thaurat was using him as a tool in a piece of criminal work, did he take this method of clearing himself, and of allowing the jewels to be returned to their owner as soon as found in the hotel? This would account for Thaurat's having left the train at Stamford, intending, perhaps, to return to New Haven and meet his confederate. Fisher meanwhile having abandoned the scheme and returned to New York, Thaurat was thwarted. But who killed the woman?" Mr. Barnes resumed his reading.

"Dec. 22.—Mitchell arose early and called for Miss Remsen at 11 o'clock. Together they went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Van Rawlston, at Fifth avenue, near Forty-eighth street. They remained nearly an hour, and they separated when they came out. Mitchell ate luncheon at the Brunswick, where he was joined by Thaurat. They went to the club in the afternoon and played whist. They lost money. Mitchell paid for both and took in T. O. U. from Thaurat for his share. Randolph was in the game. There is a growing coolness between Randolph and Mitchell. They barely speak when they meet. It is evident that no love is lost between Randolph and Thaurat. In the evening the three men were in the Remsens' box at the opera. S."

Women Who Wear Well.
It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life often make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliance vanish like the bloom from a peach which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change, ignorance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage and motherhood. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant pelvic drains and weaknesses which too often come with marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the cheek of its freshness and the form of its fairness.

As surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate woman's organs, so surely when these organs are established in health the face and form at once regain the tact in renewed comeliness. Nearly a million women have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Ingredients on label—contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs. Made wholly of those native American medicinal roots most highly recommended by leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

For nursing mothers, or for those broken down in health by too frequent bearing of children, also for the expectant mother, to prepare the system for the coming of baby and making its advent easy and almost painless, there is no medicine quite so good as "Favorite Prescription." It can do no harm in any condition of the system. It is a most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nerve tonic adapted to woman's delicate system by a physician of large experience in the treatment of woman's peculiar ailments.

E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Dear Sirs:—I have suffered more than twenty years from indigestion. About eighteen months ago I had grown so much worse that I could not digest a crust of corn bread and could not retain anything on my stomach. My heart would beat so fast I could not sleep, at times I would almost draw double with pain in the pit of my stomach. I lost twenty-five pounds; in fact, I made up my mind that I could not live but a short time, when a friend of mine recommended Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. I consented to try it to please him and I was better in one day. I now weigh more than I ever did in my life and am in better health than for many years. Kodol did it. I keep a bottle constantly, and write this hoping that humanity will be benefited.

Yours very truly,

Jake Moore

Kodol for Dyspepsia is the only digestant or combination of digestants that will digest all classes of food. In addition to this fact, it contains, in assimilative form, the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. All other digestants and dyspepsia remedies digest certain classes of food only, and are lacking in reconstructive properties.

Kodol for Dyspepsia is prepared at the laboratory of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, and is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

Woman's Nightmare

No woman's happiness can be complete without children; it is her nature to love and want them as much as it is to love the beautiful and pure. The critical ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so fraught with dread, pain, suffering and danger, that the very thought of it fills her with apprehension and horror. There is no necessity for the reproduction of life to be either painful or dangerous. The use of Mother's Friend so prepares the system for the coming event that it is safely passed without any danger. This great and wonderful remedy is always applied externally, and has carried thousands of women through the trying crisis without suffering.
